Art. 46 Declarations in lieu of certification

1. The following statuses, personal qualities and events may be demonstrated by a declaration, which may be made at the time of request, signed by the party concerned and produced instead of regular certification:

- a) date and place of birth;
- b) address;
- c) nationality;
- d) possession of civil and political rights;
- e) marital status;
- f) family status;
- g) declaration that the person is living;
- h) birth of son or daughter, death of spouse, parent, son or daughter;
- i) registration in public registries, rolls or lists in public administrations;
- l) membership in professional associations;
- m) educational qualifications, exams taken;
- n) professional qualifications, specialised educational qualifications, licences to practice, training, professional development and technical qualification courses attended;
- o) income or economic situation, also for the purposes of granting benefits of any kind under special legislation;
- p) fulfilment of specific tax obligations, indicating the amount paid;
- q) possession and number of tax code, VAT registration number, or any other item of information present in tax records;
- r) status of unemployment;
- s) status of retiree and pension category;
- t) student status;
- u) status of legal representative of physical persons or corporate entities, of guardian, liquidator, and similar statuses;
- v) registration in associations or societies of any kind;
- z) all circumstances pertaining to the fulfilment of obligations for national service, including those certified in the document demonstrating the status of service;
- aa) that the applicant is not the subject of any penal sentences or orders for the application of preventive measures, civil decisions and administrative measures entered in the criminal records office under current legislation;
- bb) that the applicant is not aware of being subject to penal proceedings;
- cc) status of financially dependent person;
- dd) all the information of which the person involved may be aware of contained in civil status registries;
- ee) that the applicant is not in a condition of receivership or bankruptcy and has not submitted a request for arrangement with creditors.

Art. 76 Penal legislation.

- 1. Anyone who makes an untruthful declaration and produces or uses false documents in the circumstances identified in this act shall be punished under the penal code and applicable special legislation.
- 2. Exhibiting a deed containing information which is no longer true is equivalent to using a false document.
- 3. Declarations in lieu of notarial deed made under articles 46 and 47 and declarations made on behalf of the people identified in article 4, paragraph 2, shall be considered made before public officers.
- 4. If the offences identified in paragraphs 1, 2 and 3 are committed to obtain appointment to public office or the authorisation to exercise a profession or an art, the judge may, in serious cases, apply temporary interdiction from public office or from the profession or art.

Art. 75 Forfeiture of benefits.

- 1. The provisions of article 76 notwithstanding, if a control of the type identified in article 71 should reveal that the content of the declaration is untruthful, the person making the declaration shall forfeit any benefits that may be consequent upon the order made on the basis of the untruthful declaration.
